

SOCIALISTS LEAD LOS ANGELES PRIMARY ELECTION

Republicans, Fearing Loss of Mayoralty, Call Women
Voters to Aid.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Practically all returns of yesterday's primary election give Job Harriman, 17,614; George Alexander, president, 15,468; William C. Mushet, 15,468. Harriman showed remarkable strength in the municipal primary held yesterday, and as a result Job Harriman, backed by the Good Government League, for Mayor of Los Angeles for next two years. In the contests for the other offices the ticket the Socialists fell somewhat behind the vote received by Harriman, but still their leaders claim will elect at least two members of the Council and three or four of the members of the Board of Education. About 50 per cent. of the registered voters was polled, there being a total of 39 votes cast, as against a registration of something over $2,000. The Alexander forces early last night, foreseeing the fight that would be made at the regular election, began formulating plans for a "blind campaign" to wipe socialism from the map. Committees were named to take charge of a house-to-house canvass for purpose of registering all women. Women's Protective League, composed entirely of women who will have vote at the December election, announced that it had pledges from 1,000 members, each of whom personally will see ten voters and ask them to vote for Alexander. Stations for registration for women will be opened in the city parks, at various women's clubs and newspaper offices, and no effort will be spared to insure victory for the good government forces. The socialists, on the other hand, who admittedly had the best managed campaign in the history of this city, will redouble their efforts to elect Harriman, continuing their efforts along the same lines employed in the primary campaign. Rising from a voting strength of a paltry 2,000 a few months ago to 15,000 or more yesterday, the socialist showing in the primary was regarded as amazing. In the last election, Mayor Alexander received an overwhelming majority.
